

An Invitation to Participate in the Sacred Creation of the Tara Stupa Mandala at Bokar Thubten Ling, Ibiza

Dear Dharma Friends and Supporters,

With profound joy and heartfelt devotion, we are honored to share that a sacred project has begun at Bokar Thubten Ling, the center of Bokar Rinpoche in Ibiza: the construction of the Mandala Tara Stupa – a radiant symbol of peace, compassion, and boundless blessings for all sentient beings.

This noble initiative was inspired and guided by Khenpo Samdup Rinpoche, with the gracious spiritual support of Garchen Rinpoche (Drikung Kagyu lineage), as well as the blessings of Bokar Rinpoche and Khenpo Donyo Rinpoche (Karma Kagyu lineage). In this way, the Tara Stupa beautifully embodies the rare and precious unity across Kagyu lineages, dedicated to preserving the authentic Dharma and bringing benefit impartially to all beings.

The Profound Significance of the Tara Stupa

After the Buddha's Parinirvana, His relics were divided and enshrined in eight sacred sites, giving rise to the eight traditional types of stupas. Uniquely, the Tara Stupa integrates all eight forms into one sacred structure, enshrining relics and consecrated substances representing each.

At the pinnacle of its central axis rest representations of eight Buddhas, with Tara foremost, symbolizing the perfect union of enlightened qualities and blessings. Known as the "Tara Stupa," it is oriented according to the eight directions – mirroring the eight-spoked wheel visualized at the heart of White Tara. Thus, the Stupa manifests Tara's luminous, compassionate essence: a wellspring of unconditional love, protection, healing, and profound wisdom.

A Sanctuary for Practice, Healing, and Blessings

Within the Stupa will be enshrined sacred texts, precious relics, and consecrated offerings. An adjoining meditation temple will offer a serene space for practitioners and visitors alike to read Dharma, meditate, perform prostrations, make offerings, or simply abide in the gentle presence of Tara's blessing energy.

According to the Buddha's teachings, merely seeing, touching, hearing about, remembering, or even thinking of such a Stupa plants the seeds of profound karmic connection, dispelling fear, obstacles, and suffering. Even those who pass nearby – whether living or departed – receive immeasurable benefit, sowing virtuous seeds that ripen into future awakening.

The surrounding Tara Mandala, filled with Buddha relics and countless sacred substances, will radiate harmony and benefit to humans, animals, and all beings across the island of Ibiza and far beyond.

The Immense Merit of Participation

The presence of a Stupa pacifies the environment, invites auspicious circumstances, reduces conflict and affliction, and fosters peace, prosperity, and spiritual flourishing.

Those who contribute – through physical effort, financial support, material offerings, prayers, or simply heartfelt aspiration – accumulate vast stores of merit. This creates powerful causes for the removal of obstacles, protection from harm, and steady progress toward full Awakening.

As Garchen Rinpoche has graciously taught:

“Building this stupa brings great benefits. You have my prayers of auspiciousness. There is no greater offering we can make to the Buddhas of the three times than to build a stupa like this, nor a greater root of virtue to dedicate to all beings.

Whoever forms a connection with the stupa, through the power of that connection, will accumulate limitless merit until attaining Awakening. Even if we offer 10 euros, the benefits are without limit. Many thanks to all who collaborate in the construction of the stupa. It will benefit you until you reach Awakening.”
